The Supreme Court as a Governing Power.

[From the Washington Chronicle.]

The pro-Southern leaders are at their old tricks again. They are invoking the aid of the judiciary to determine political questions. The manifest danger of such a proceeding has already been demonstrated and ought to be abandoned. The Dred Scott decision, by destroying two well-established maxims of the Republic, and reversing the judgments of all our leading statesmen, made a civil war inevitable. When every man whom the people had loved and followed—George Washington, and Thomas Jefferson, the Adamses, Jackson, Clay, Webster, Benton, and all the lesser lights—had maintained the theory that slavery was a creation of local law, it was a piece of criminal daring of the Supreme Court to attempt to reverse the popular conviction based upon such high authority. It was, moreover, a crime for Judge Taney to attempt to overthrow the substantial proposition of equal rights set forth in the Declaration of Independence, and to close the door of hope upon an enslaved race by falsely declaring that our fathers esteemed them as beings "who had no rights which the white man is bound to respect." The attempt to stem the tide of public opinion by a court decision is always an inexcusable folly, because a fixed and enduring public opinion is an offspring of social necessity, and there is wisdom even in judicial tribunals recognizing the fact that society has outgrown certain laws, and permitting said laws to sleep as dead-letters upon the books. But in the Dred Scott case the court went beyond the point in issue, and gave the country obiter dicta decisions for political purposes; Justice Wayne declaring in his opinion, that, in addition to private rights of great value he thought the case involved "constitutional principles of the highest importance, about which there had become such a difference of opinion that the peace and harmony of the country required the settlement of them by judicial decision."

Who can doubt now, that in going beyond the necessities of the case they made a grievous mistake. As Martin Van Buren says in his "Political Parties:" "The question which the court undertook to settle was political, and had assumed a partisan character of great virulence."

* * * * *

"To add a deeper shade to this trespass upon the time-honored creed of the Democratic party, the anti-Democratic doctrine was conveyed to the public in a form professing to be a necessary adjudication in the regular cause of the administration of justice, whilst it is, to a considerable extent at least, exposed to the imputation of having, in truth, been an extra-judicial opinion voluntarily, and not necessarily delivered—a mode of bringing before the country the opinions of the Supreme Bench, formerly much in use, but which, since the case of Marbury and Madison, has been peculiarly repulsive to Democrats, and which Mr. Jefferson spent much time in holding up to odium."

Mr. Van Buren attributes the attitude of Taney in this matter, as well as Buchanan's eagerness for the decision, to their early Federal education, and enters into a detailed history of the efforts of that party to erect the judiciary into a political power, and how these efforts were successfully combatted by all the Democratic Presidents from Jefferson down to Jackson. In alluding to the prominent part taken under the principles of the Dred Scott decision in Congress by Toombs, of the Senate, and Alexander H. Stephens, of the House, both from Georgia, he says: "I know neither personally, and never heard of either particularly, save as extreme partisans in the ranks of our opponents."

Alexander H. Stephens is a good witness as to the influence under which the Supreme Court had hitherto acted. In his speech before the State Convention of Georgia, he said: "We have had sixty years of Southern Presidents to their twenty-four, thus controlling the executive department. So of the judges of the Supreme Court; we have had eighteen from the South and but eleven from the North. Although nearly four-fifths of the judicial business has arisen in the free States, yet a majority of the Court has arisen from the South. This we have required so as to guard against any interpretation of the Constitution unfavorable to us." This discloses the fact, readily enough comprehended by any sensible man, that the Constitution, to which Andrew Johnson professes so much maudlin devotion just now, is liable to different interpretations, and that the Court was regulated in the Southern interest. The Dred Scott decision was a case in point—a Southern interpretation, intended to settle a grave political question in favor of the South. The fact is now well known that George B. McClellan and the rebel Generals understood each other, and that the delays in our army movements during the early part of the war were attributable to that understanding. The Dred Scott decision was to be made the basis of adjustment, and peace was only to be had by making it the law of the land. McClellan was to lie in idleness, wearing away the patience of the Republicans in the North and frightening the people with enormous expenditure, while Lee was to do the same service of the extreme men of the South. When at last compelled to move, it was understood battles were to be avoided if at all possible. Hence the long delay in marching on to Richmond, and the ultimate discovery of Quaker guns at Manassas Junction; hence the peninsular campaign, with its wastage of the army in the trenches before Yorktown from one hundred and twenty thousand strong down to eighty thousand—the slow approaches, the exhaustive labor, the digging of trenches and rifle-pits, the laying down of one hundred miles of corduroy road, only at last to get into an abandoned fortification. Hence the putting forward of enough men to let them into traps, the disgraceful failure to follow up the accidental victory at White Oaks, the gun-boat generalship on the James river. Hence, also, the conference with Lee at Antietam, and the exposure, by Major Key, McClellan's staff officer, of the fact that it was not the game to follow up that equivocal victory, the game being to save slavery. These army folks thought that they could settle the war without reference to the people, but at last the people made the army obey its behests, and found leaders who believed in the cause. These leaders carried us on to victory, and peace was made. But the traitors had still a quiver in their bow—Wilkes Booth shot that, and the great cause was again betrayed. Now, Andrew Johnson would settle up the past upon the basis of Dred Scott; and he whose party language was always in derision of court decisions until the Dred Scott decision suited his purpose, is become nearly devout with a veneration for judicial tribunals. He couples the powers of the courts with the powers of the President in a proclamation of numerous whereases, but still refrains from acknowledging the existence of the law-making power.

The courts depend upon public opinion for the respect which shall be paid to their decisions. It will be a sad day for justice when they become political machines, and will be a prelude to their downfall. Their decisions as between the parties to the suits are binding. These sometimes involve political principle. When this is the case the judge should be a statesman as well as a judge; for, as De Tocqueville truly says, if the court should be composed of incompetent or bad men, they would make a civil war inevitable.

BEEF AND PORK PACKING.—The following we take from the Salem Record:

Any person who is interested in knowing how meat is well prepared for market, and especially how it is so cured as to stand transportation to any climate, and yet preserve its excellence, can obtain information, and be interested besides, by a visit to Mr. Cross's new meat curing house, back of and adjoining the Centre Market. The building is eighty-four feet long by twenty-five wide, and already is entirely occupied by parcels of meat undergoing the curing process. Mr. Cross has attained great success, and a paying reputation, by doing his work well, and offering in Portland and San Francisco sugar cured hams and the best of dried beef.

After several dealings with the P. M. S. S. Co., he now has engagement to furnish them with a large amount of meats of all kinds. He is intending to kill 500 or 600 beef cattle and 2,000 to 3,000 hogs; to convert the first into good mess beef, in barreled form, and the hams into the best dried beef. The pork will be made into prime, mess and clear pork, barreled, and into sugar cured hams and shoulders, and bacon sides. For the P. M. S. S. Co. he is killing 500 spring pigs, well fattened and sizeable, got up according to contract, and better pork than he will furnish them has never been made. He expects to put up 40,000 pounds of dried beef and 50,000 to 60,000 pounds of hams.

Why is a pine tree like the distance between Petersburg and Richmond? Because it is not 'fir.'

Gov. Brownlow's Message.

On the assemblage of the Tennessee Legislature last week, Gov. Brownlow delivered his message. We have a copy of it before us, and find it a clearly-expressed, bold, manly exposition of the public affairs of the State. We have room only for the following extracts, on the subjects of immigration and laws for the protection of colored citizens:

It was our fond hope that, upon the restoration of peace, the termination of slavery, and the establishment of civil government, a tide of emigration would set into this State from the Northern States and from Europe; that men of capital and enterprize, attracted by our mild and healthy climate, fertile soil, magnificent scenery, pure and abundant water, would come among us and aid in the rapid development of our vast resources. Our disappointment is attributable to the intolerant and proscriptive spirit of a large portion of those lately in rebellion. With them every Union man is an "Abolitionist," and every "Abolitionist" an enemy to be proscribed, despised, and driven from the country. I attribute the violence of these pestilential disloyalists to the insane policy of the President, who constantly holds out to them the prospect of being restored to power at an early day. The treatment of the few who have brought their families and means among us, has been such as to engender a feeling of insecurity of life and property, a sense of social isolation, and a consciousness that they are liable at any time to be expelled from the country. Some good citizens, men of enterprise and capital, have actually returned to the Northern States, in consequence of ill treatment.

It is to be hoped, however, that these passions and prejudices will wear away, and common sense resume its sway; that as the power and influence of the President, now so rapidly waning, shall cease to stimulate their vain and foolish hopes for supremacy in the country, they will see the great advantage of not only treating immigrants with common respect, but of encouraging them to settle among us. It is to be hoped that they will soon learn that their former contracted and sectional ideas can never again prevail, and they will soon fall into the great radical idea of equal rights to all men in all sections of country. Hoping and believing that a better spirit will soon prevail, growing out of our present elections, without going into details, I recommend that you extend every encouragement within your constitutional power to immigration.

Our colored fellow citizens have shown a greater aptitude for learning and the acquisition of knowledge than was expected, and by their good conduct and steadfast loyalty have rapidly won upon the good opinions and respect of the loyal portion of the white race; while their rebel opponents, under the encouragement afforded them by the pro-rebel policy of the President, have shown less disposition to return to true loyalty than was fondly expected. The exercise of the elective franchise by the colored race in this State has shown them capable of exercising that right, and of selecting candidates to represent them.

Some legislation is necessary to protect the colored race in their rights as renters and laborers. In many instances they have been turned out of employment and otherwise proscribed, not to say defrauded, for opinion's sake. Coming here from every county in the State, you are familiar with the facts, and your sense of justice will prompt you to apply the remedy for this great and growing evil.

THE INDIAN CAMPAIGN.—The Owyhee Avalanche of the 2d inst. has the following:

We noted the movements of Major Hunt and Col. Coppinger last week. Since that time our information has been obtained from Mr. Pinkett, (guide,) who was in Silver last Monday evening. The command found the trail of the Indians who committed the murder and captured Mrs. Denoille near Camp Lyon, and followed it in the direction of Stein's Mountain. The scouts kept in advance and discovered two camp fires just this side the Owyhee River one morning, and the next morning the fires were started up again. An Indian made his appearance on a ridge and discovered the scouts and gave the alarm, when they dashed into the camp, killed one buck, captured two squaws and four horses. Signs of a formidable camp of Indians were seen, and the scouts and command returned to Camp Lyon, and left again on Wednesday much more effectually armed and prepared for a campaign. Col. Coppinger's men were armed with worthless guns—at most no better than substantial clubs, but fortunately a train had just arrived at Camp Lyon with ordnance stores, and Spencer rifles for Major Hunt's Company which also had just returned from the Department of the Lakes. The Sharp's rifles with which Major Hunt's Company were armed were turned over to Col. Coppinger's men. In addition to this, a limited supply of pistols were received, and now the men are better than ever before prepared to make a fight. Col. Coppinger and Major Hunt are determined to hunt a fight as soon as possible and may ere this have succeeded.

From the squaws captured it was ascertained that the Indians do not intend to murder Mrs. Denoille but keep her to drive a favorable trade with the whites. We are told that one of the squaws was sent to the Indians with the message asking the captors to name a price for the captured woman. Her recovery is expected.

Col. Coppinger, in command at Camp Three Forks has seriously felt the want of better arms for his men, and even the ammunition was of a poor quality. We are satisfied the Col. is an earnest man and very anxious to make the best of the means at hand. He has been active this whole year. What he has failed to accomplish has not been his fault. It is easy to sit round in ignorance of the circumstances and censure others for seeming failures.

GEN. GRANT.—The N. Y. Evening Post, of Oct. 14th, says of the General:

The result of the elections last week has turned all eyes in the direction of General Grant. A few fanatic radical papers show their worse than Bourbon folly by crying out for severe legislation in Congress, but all men of common sense learn a different lesson from results in Pennsylvania and Ohio.

It is interesting to notice the expressions in favor of General Grant. The Maryland Union State Convention first adopted resolutions in his favor, and now the Union Club of Columbus, Ohio, on motion of the Attorney General of the State, "concurs with and responds to the Unionists of Maryland in the recommendation of Gen. U. S. Grant as their candidate for next President." This comes from the city of Salmon P. Chase, where he made a speech on the Saturday before election—an election which very effectually disposed of him. The Toledo (Ohio) Blade says that "nothing but his positive refusal to accept the Presidency can prevent Grant's nomination in 1868," and the La Crosse (Wis.) Republican, after declaring that the elections had buried up Chase and Wade and resurrected Pendleton, and that his repudiation policy has put out Butler's light, says that Grant is the inevitable man. The Syracuse Journal says the people "will never turn against the heroic chieftain who led the loyal hosts to victory against the rebellion. General U. S. Grant will be the next Chief Magistrate of the nation." The Concord (N. H.) Statesman says that Grant "is already nominated."

THAD. STEVENS.—A late Pennsylvania paper says:

Thaddeus Stevens is evidently daily gaining strength, all rumors to the contrary notwithstanding. Although the unavoidable weariness incident to his recent illness necessarily requires some rest, he is up as usual daily, attending to his political and other business. No better evidence of his improved condition could be given than the fact that he has given orders to have his house in Washington prepared for his occupancy at the opening of the session of Congress in December.

Josh Billings gives a most ridiculous account of a visit to an Agricultural Fair, and closes with the following "sly dig" at the paucity of the display: "I forgot to say that there tew yoke of oxen on the ground, besides several yokes ov sheep, and a pile ov carrots, and some worsted work, but they didn't seem to attract enny sympathy. The people hankered for pure agricultural hoss trots."

Some idea may be formed of the number of base ball players by the fact that a single manufactory in Lynn, Massachusetts, has made and sold 30,000 pairs of shoes for base ball players this season.

Iowa Republican Platform.

The following is the Republican platform of the State of Iowa, on which so brilliant a victory was gained in October:

We, the representatives of the Republican party of the State of Iowa, in Convention assembled, announce the following as the platform of our principles:

1. That we again proclaim it as a cardinal principle of our political faith, that all men are equal before the law, and we are in favor of such amendments to the Constitution of the State of Iowa as will secure the rights of the ballot, the protection of the law, and equal justice to all men, irrespective of color, race or religion.

2. That we approve of the military reconstruction acts passed by the 39th and 40th Congress, but as the illiberal construction by unfriendly officials deprives these acts of their energy and vitality, we demand that Congress assemble in July, to carry out, by additional enactment, the true and original intent of said acts [illegible] of the Rebel States upon a sure and loyal basis.

3. That the prompt trial and punishment according to law, of the head of the late [illegible] for the vindication of the [illegible] laws, and for the proper punishment of the act crime; it is [illegible] and a pledge [illegible] a due regard for the [illegible] the Republic; and it is due not only to the dignity of the nation; but in justice to the loyal people who have been so heroic in [illegible] of the Constitution, the Union and liberty, and to the soldiers of the Union who [illegible] and the memory of the heroic dead.

4. That we are in favor of the strictest economy in the expenditure of public money, and that we demand at the hands of all our officials, both State and National, a faithful and rigidly honest administration of public affairs.

5. That the Republican members of the Congress of the United States are entitled to the thanks of the Nation, for their firmness in [illegible] the conspiracy to turn over the control of the Government to the hands of traitors and their allies, and in defeating the [illegible] of a [illegible] Executive and thus [illegible] liberty, in a great and dangerous crisis in our history.

The Recent Political Contests.

The elections of last week finish the list of Northern States voting this year. Last year most of these States elected Governors and Congressmen; hence the elections of this year turned mainly on local questions. As must always be the case on such occasions, the dominant party has met with losses, and has failed to poll the full and united vote which it throws when national issues only are to be passed upon. That the party in power has not put forth its strength this year is apparent to every observer. It has had no need to do so; for, having an overwhelming majority in Congress, and being in secure possession of most of the States, there was no reason why it should make such an effort as it did last year when Johnson had proclaimed his intention to destroy it, and had appealed to the people on that issue. Then the party, betrayed by those whom it had placed in power, was fighting for its existence; and its victory was one of the grandest triumphs ever witnessed in our politics. But this year being in power, and not menaced by immediate danger, it could afford to be easy, and to relax its efforts for the great contest of next year. This also was the time, when nothing of national importance was depending on the result, to settle local issues and to square accounts within the party. In fact the contests of this year have been little else than contests within the Republican party, arising from a variety of causes, and [illegible] settlement. There has been no time for several years so propitious for the adjustment of these matters, and as the Presidential election is to take place next year, they could not be postponed till then. This year was in fact, the very time for Republicans to attend to these things, and under the circumstances it is not at all surprising that their strength has seemed to diminish since the last elections. The great national problem is the restoration of the rebel States to their former relations with the Union; but this question, as [illegible] Congress and the Republican party on the one side, and the President, his pardoned followers and the Democratic party on the other, has scarcely been considered at all in the elections [illegible]. Certainly it has not been actively in [illegible]. It is well known that the issue in California was simply a fight between different wings of the Republican party, which the Democrats very adroitly took advantage of, and by means of which they succeeded in electing their ticket. They all admit, that without this rupture among their opponents, their own chances for success would have been [illegible] the liquor [illegible] was the only issue. In several other States, negro suffrage, female suffrage, the labor question, the liquor question, and divers local issues [illegible], was brought into the canvass, making [illegible] a medley, and [illegible] as curious a [illegible], as was ever seen in politics. In Pennsylvania the partial success of the Democrats is [illegible] by the Republicans [illegible] corruption. In New York the Democratic [illegible] is owing to two causes purely [illegible] and in no way connected with [illegible]. First, the Sunday and liquor laws, the opposition to which has run up the Democratic majority in New York City and Brooklyn to the unprecedented figure of [illegible], and second, the determination of the Republicans to punish legislative corruption. [illegible] has long been a scandal to the State. These [illegible] was not [illegible] to one party; [illegible] have shown that the Democratic [illegible] always been largely engaged in them, but the Republicans determined to seize this [illegible] to [illegible] the evil from their own party, [illegible] which their [illegible] will. Before the [illegible] New York Tribune [illegible] such [illegible]. If a jobber gets [illegible] the [illegible] party, do not [illegible] but be sure to go [illegible] to the polls and [illegible] as well as vote against him. Never [illegible] to bolt when the [illegible] of so doing [illegible] be the [illegible] of a Democratic [illegible] of a [illegible] must be [illegible] in the [illegible] it is every way desirable that they should not be Republicans. And, so long as [illegible] that party [illegible] will [illegible] they will be sure to seize it. [illegible] that the [illegible] won't win and they will quit it. Give them a lesson this fall." All the [illegible] Republican papers held similar [illegible]. Their idea was that the present was the very time to settle these matters. Nothing of importance was depending before the Legislature, no Senator was to be elected and no State office of importance was to be filled; hence no time could be so opportune to punish jobbery and corruption. This settlement of accounts within the party, and the temporary loss of tens of thousands of votes in New York city because of [illegible] fully [illegible] in the Empire State. In the mind of any Republican who understands the nature of the questions involved in the late elections, there is nothing in the result which can produce the smallest discouragement. Think of it! If the Democrats next year carry every State which they have carried now, and add Ohio and Oregon (which they have not carried yet) to the number, they will still fail to get a majority of the electoral votes of the States now represented in the Union. And when it is considered that the ten States lately in rebellion will be fully reorganized and ready to vote next November, and that there is hardly a possibility that a single one of them will vote against the Republicans, there would seem to be little cause for loud Democratic rejoicing in anticipation of certain and easy victory. But perhaps it is well for them to bring out their barn-yard poultry now, for next year they will have neither disposition nor opportunity for such exhibitions.

Rebel Stuff.—The Copperhead-rebel organ of this place publishes an article on the death of "the Gallant General Price, in which the world is informed that "his memory will be preserved among his [illegible] until patriotism and a love of true glory shall have perished among the nations." The "organ" editorially endorses this article, and talks of "General Price and the other good men" who endeavored to take Missouri out of the Union, and failing in their design, invaded the State with armed forces, spreading slaughter and devastation in their track. It appears that a Democrat loves a rebel, under any circumstances. Most of the rebels "went with their States," which entirely justifies them in Democratic estimation; but Price did not go with his State; nevertheless his conduct was entirely justifiable. Observe the "Democracy" talking of the "good men" who attempted to destroy the Union! Observe them praising the "patriotism" of those who have ribbed the land with graves and clothed a nation with mourning! Is "Democracy" anything different from what it was in 1861?

The plunderer's organ objects to our calling the large sums which it is receiving from the city a "gratuity." It says it is paid these sums for the "city printing," at a rate no greater than was paid formerly to the Oregonian. The pay which it receives is the same thing as a gratuity, for the greater part of the printing it does is ordered solely for its benefit. It has had the city printing seven months and has received $700 therefor. During the whole of last year the Oregonian received $437 for the work. Though the rate is now the same as was paid to the Oregonian last year, the amount of printing ordered is about three times as great now as it was then. This extra printing is altogether needless and was never ordered before. The plunderer's organ therefore actually receives a "gratuity" of sixty or seventy dollars per month from the "retrenching" Council. Our first statement was therefore a strictly correct one.

We notice in a contemporary newspaper an allusion to an individual, who is said to have labored a long time for the Oregonian without adequate reward. The public can judge whether an individual who, as many of the business men of this place know, was accustomed habitually to collect larger sums from them than he returned to this office, would not be likely to get full pay for his services if not something more.

THE WIRES BEING DOWN, we are left utterly in doubt whether the election in New York, Pennsylvania, and other States, have gone Republican or Democratic. It makes no difference, politically, how these States have gone, as long as our State is yet blessed with a Clothing House that the public can rely on, and always be suited with the best goods at the lowest prices, be it a fine Dress Suit, or a common Business Suit, a fine Silk Dress or a paper of Pins, which you wish to purchase, you will be treated equally as well, at KOHN & FISHEL'S, No. 91 Front street.

Buchtel's Photograph Gallery is the only establishment in Oregon that is thoroughly prepared to do all the different styles of work in the art. Photographs from card to life size. The new cabinet cards, &c., &c. Small pictures enlarged (retouched in India ink—painted in water-colors or oil by Mrs. E. J. Rumsey. Pictures that are fading can be reproduced in this way. All negatives taken in this gallery will be carefully preserved, and additional copies had. I have now on hand a very large collection of negatives, the names of which are recorded alphabetically in a book for that purpose that can be seen in the reception room.

A Practical Suggestion —This is a season of the year when most men who live upon what they earn by the day or month, are looking out for winter quarters It is a good time of the year to have a place secured and as there are really but few permanent places to be had during the winter there are many who are looking at the questions of food and clothing with much anxiety As usual, there will be more or less destitution and suffering; and as usual there will be calls upon the charitable for relief As usual there will be many who will talk and act charitably; but without that practical application of relief to needs, which may be necessary to make a given sum do the greatest good to the greatest number Suppose we put a case this way Mr A wants a porter or clerk; there are two applicants for the place—one a poor man with a family the other a young single man Now, will Mr A think once that the single man if he fail to get employment has no one to suffer with him and can at any time go elsewhere for employment or that he can make a living on odd jobs, while the man with a family can do neither of those things? When he turns the man with a family away and hires the single man, will he think he has made anything, if before spring he be called upon to help the other's family with charity? Or will he be perfectly satisfied that he has done the right thing? It might be well enough for every one to reflect a little upon these matters to see what great good each one may do in the simple matter of hiring a clerk or porter for the winter If every one who has made to hire would select as his employee some needy man, some man who if employed could keep his family comfortably and who if not employed must face the horrors of want, there would be surprisingly few cases in the city to call for charitable action Will the charitable, at least, act upon this suggestion?

On the charge of disorderly conduct, they were each fined $10 and costs On the charge of defacing a house by breaking a window, they were fined, with costs, $23 70 each. A costly exercise of muscle On Saturday, Bill Wills and B W Wooley were arrested on a charge of larceny, by stealing a watch. Upon the examination, there being no evidence to sustain the charge, they were discharged

Wm. Shef, for being drunk and disorderly, was fined $10 and costs

We are not informed as to what is the programme of exercises; but there will be singing by the Sunday School children and there, tableaux and various other interesting performances The tickets of admission are only 50 cents The price is within the reach of all and ... the important object of the festival, all friends of the Sunday School cause, should make it a point to attend

The Idaho Annexation Scheme.—Referring to the late petition at Walla Walla in favor of annexing North Idaho to Washington Territory, the Vancouver ... says: If Northern Idaho is to be annexed to Washington Territory as a permanent thing, we are in favor of it. If it is to be done with a view to another territorial division, and to create places for politicians, we are against it." We had not supposed that anybody ... the object of their movement to be anything less than an ultimate separation of the eastern and western portions of Washington Territory The Walla Walla ... make no attempt, in their conversations about the ... to conceal their purpose, to seek a new territorial ...

Mr Gibson then went to Washington county and got out a warrant, upon which the deputy sheriff of that county, took Kingston to Hillsboro on Saturday.

That's What's the Matter —Josh Billings recently went to an agricultural fair and when he came to write his report of it, he summed it up as follows "There was a few yoke of oxen on the ground, besides several ... and a pile of carrots and some wested ... but they didn't seem to attract any sympathy ... for pore agricultural hoss trots.' That's what's the matter with all our agricultural fairs

Has Returned to Portland, and can be found at his residence on Third St., bet. Alder and Washington.

Those who desire FIRST CLASS DENTAL SERVICES might do well to give him a call He is making a NEW AND IMPROVED VULCANITE PLATE; the nature of his improvement consists in lining the entire concave surface with fine gold; it makes the plate twice as strong and one-third times thinner than the common vulcanite plate It also prevents the acids of the mouth from roughing the plate, and from turning it black, which is a common occurrence, One-half of the common vulcanite plates turn black after being in use a short time, particularly where tobacco is used for smoking His new style of plate admits of a very fine finish on the concave or palate surface. His office is the only place where such work can be had The improvement is his own invention, for which he has made application to the United States Patent Office for a patent He has been making this style of work for the last two-and a half years, and has specimens of the work which can be seen at his residence and office on Third street This work has given satisfaction in every case

CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!
A Pure and Powerful Tonic,
Corrective and Alterative, of wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.
PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES.
Prevents Fever and Ague and Bilious Remittent Fever, Fortifies the System against Miasma and the evil effects of unwholesome water, invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels,
Steadies the Nerves and tends to Prolong Life.
REMEDIAL PROPERTIES.
Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Sea Sickness, Cramps and Spasms, and all complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness, whether inherent in the system or PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.

NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, GENIAL, and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind; no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant, but is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants, with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated, and the appetite restored by this Tonic and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia, and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits, and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters The testimony on this point is conclusive, and from both sexes.

As a Genuine Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay, and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them

Last, but not least, it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day

Herschel V Johnson on Reconstruction.

[From the New York Tribune Oct 10th.]

Herschel V. Johnson of Georgia, who was a Douglas candidate for Vice President in 1860, and a Unionist thereafter until he became a secessionist recently sent us rather a long expose of the political situation as viewed from an ex Confederate stand point We printed his manifesto verbatim with comments much shorter than itself He comes back on us in a letter which fills four full columns in close type and would much more than cover this page in our editorial type We would like to answer it, but Johnson allows us no room "Some take all, but he leaves none" We are compelled, therefore to rest content with restating a few important facts which he ignores or defies

First—Johnson asserts that Congress delayed for two long years to mature and present any plan of reconstruction He is mistaken Congress presented a plan near the close of the very first session after Lee's and Johnson's surrender, and the next Republican State Convention of this State publicly pledged our support to the admission of each and every State which should accept it None of them except Tennessee did accept it or has yet done so, so another plan had to be devised and proposed Was that the fault of Congress? Suppose the present plan is in like manner rejected must the Republicans bear the blame?

Second—Johnson asserts that the class for which he speaks are ready to treat the blacks justly, and even kindly We will admit that he thinks so But he thought they did the same when they held those blacks in slavery, and refused to take the oath of a Christian Bishop if black, against the most worthless reprobate, if white. They say hell is paved with good intentions But Gov Pease says at least one hundred negroes have been maliciously killed by whites in Texas alone under the sway of the Johnsonian State authorities, and not one of these white murderers has been punished by the Throckmorton rule. We have for years been printing corr[illegible] ailing accounts from all the [illegible] ted States Johnson will not [illegible] y that [illegible] have been killed by whites in the South since April, 1865. How many of the m[illegible] rs have been brought to justice by the State authorities? This is a matter of simple fact And we assert that not one white man in every twenty who have killed negroes in the South since Lee's surrender, has been brought to justice by [illegible] to whom Johnson thinks it very hard that th[illegible] States and their blacks should not be sur[illegible] d [illegible] by Congress

Third—Johnson says there are 8,000,000 of whites and but 4,000,000 of blacks in the South Both figures are about right. Of the whites there may be 100,000 not more disfranchised by Congress as prominent rebels. Say that these represent a half a million of people call it a million, if you will leaving but 7,000,000 of enfranchised whites to 4,000,000 blacks. The whites own nearly all the land and other property, more than half of th[illegible] are educated, while the adult bl[illegible] [illegible] generally ignorant; the whites are not inferior in [illegible] while far [illegible] in social position [illegible] says J[illegible] to [illegible] political power to [illegible] 7,000,000 of enfranchised whites and 4,000,000 of blacks is to hand the South over to negro [illegible] subjugate the white race, and [illegible] everything! Surely a man who knows wh[illegible] four is or is not more than seven [illegible] more one who has ran for Vice President [illegible] better than to put forth such [illegible] absurdity as this. The immigration to the S[illegible] is heavy, and almost exclusively white, [illegible] are no [illegible] lawyers, negro doctors and few negro merchants, almost every element of power is in the [illegible] of the whi[illegible] [illegible] is under [illegible] is either hypocritical or pusillanimous we mean it looks like that. We shall next hear that the dogs of the South have held a [illegible] and resolved to [illegible] the bloody sheep who [illegible] up. Yet, Johnson's letter [illegible] the [illegible] on this [illegible] portion [illegible] that the blacks are gen[illegible] That, we presume, is so But [illegible] and [illegible] the laws which punished as [illegible] the [illegible] of one of their number to read, [illegible] been altered [illegible] they [illegible] spitude and eagerness to do so. [illegible] help them to [illegible]

[illegible] We [illegible] emphatically deny that there is any quarrel [illegible] the "two sections" or their [illegible] There is a faction at the South that still [illegible] the lost cause, and refuse to be comforted. It has a very large body of [illegible] at the [illegible] is not in all the region over which J[illegible] Davis once presided, a single [illegible] so large a portion of the inhabitants are [illegible] with [illegible] V. Johnson [illegible] his [illegible] Do [illegible] North [illegible] and [illegible] to [illegible] Shreveport [illegible] to the [illegible] not [illegible] vote!"

[illegible] be [illegible] as [illegible] North [illegible] but [illegible] the point [illegible] had [illegible]

Sixth [illegible] of secession and [illegible] what we said in 1861 what Con[illegible] in 1861 [illegible] were Calhoun's the[illegible] of [illegible] and whether Johnson be[illegible] was [illegible] in fighting to subvert the [illegible] did—whether the States [illegible] in or out of the Union, etc., etc.,—[illegible] with John[illegible] Let the dead bury their dead" If any one wants to see what we have to say on these [illegible] will find it compiled into a very few chapters of the "American Conflict" That we did not see these matters through [illegible] is very true; but can further [illegible] help the matter? We do surely hold that the So[illegible] if you count out the blacks did not [illegible] from the Union, though a violent, [illegible] faction as[illegible] to do so; we hold that this faction, with[illegible] the Union [illegible] was [illegible] and we hold that the result is most auspicious to the [illegible] being, of both North and South. Johnson, we regret to see, still gropes in the [illegible] darkness of the [illegible] insists on keeping his [illegible] as possible. If what he [illegible] was really so, slavery is not yet [illegible] should be reclaimed and set to work by his old master, to said negroes' in[illegible] But the [illegible] still rolls onward, and we can afford to leave Johnson's obstinate [illegible] to be [illegible] by the [illegible] march of events. "The stars in their [illegible]" still shine, and light [illegible] to each of us [illegible] of his will.

Nothing had Happened. [illegible] years ago, a [illegible] living in a village bordering on Berks[illegible] furnished one of his three sons with a sum of money and told him to go West and [illegible] two [illegible] at the end of which time he should return to [illegible] and one of them would be there to meet him. The young man started on his travels, and at the end of the specified time he returned. It should be premised that telegraphs were not then in vogue, the postal system was not so perfect as to-day, and literary attainments [illegible] not so general, hence no communication took place between the parties He returned, however, as we said. His brother was there to meet him, and they both proceeded homeward in a buggy The wanderer, after relating some of his adventures; inquired whether any thing had happened he left home.

'No, not a single thing,' said the other, 'everything is just the same as when you left—except that the old crow died'

'Indeed,' said the wanderer, 'and what killed him?'

'Why, he eat too much meat when the matched horses died'

'Good gracious! are the matched horses dead—what killed them?'

'Well, you see, when the house and barn burned they overdid themselves in hauling water'

'Good gracious! are the house and barn burned down—how did it happen?'

'Well you see when daddy died, they carried lights about, and were careless'

'Good gracious! is daddy dead what was the matter with him?'

'Well, you see, when our Sal ran away and got married against daddy's wishes he just pined away and died'

'Good gracious! so nothing has happened since I've been away?'

'No, every thing is just the same!'

Ancient Pottery —M Fouque of the College of France, has recently returned from a journey of exploration in the island of Santorin, where he has found fragments of pottery, which are the more interesting because he has gathered them himself from a vegetable soil, at a depth of five or six metres where they were overstrewn with objects carved in silver, and other little objects in gold. These objects, such as knives, points of arrows and sharp blades, appear to prove that the age of working in play and stone was followed immediately and easily by the use of metals, and that the employment of vessels and tools of stone was active at the moment when commercial relations with one another were in their infancy, for these potteries appear to have been fabricated upon the coasts of Asia Minor.

The Same Medicine Won't always Cure — 'Madam " said a husband to young wife in a little altercation which will spring upon the best regulated families, " when a man and his wife have quarreled, and each consider the other at fault which of the two ought to advance towards a reconciliation?' The best natured and the wisest of the two said the wife, putting up her mouth for a kiss which was given with an unction She was the conqueror

A newly married lass in the country, thought how delightful it would be to stop her Billy's mouth in the same way when he became a little querulous, of which little failing our Billy was thought occasionally guilty On one occasion, after milking the cows and performing sundry other little duties—eating a couple of onions—she drew her stool to her husband's feet, and commenced her knitting

Billy had been working in the field, things had gone wrong, and in no pleasant humor, had thrown himself in a rocking chair, to sleep and dream away his troubles Every now and then in a wakeful moment, he would mutter 'them darned pigs rooted up the beets " 'Can't keep the devilish cows out of the corn field ' ' The roan mare lost her shoe, always heavin' her shoes that last thunder turned all the milk, all Sue's fault wouldn't take my advice, never does nothing right, always the way, spending her time making dresses," etc She could stand these sleepy reproaches no longer, so pouting her pretty lips, with an arch smile, she leaned towards him, and called out 'Why Billy! aren't you ashamed of yourself?'" Bill, starting up, upset poor Sue upon the floor, brawling out, ' There Sue, somebody's gone and upset that darned swill barrel! ' The onions had done their work Sue never tried the same remedy again

Sheridan in Boston —A dispatch from Boston, Oct 8th, gives the following

At least fifty thousand persons assembled in Bowdoin Square last evening to welcome General Sheridan A torch light procession comprising nine posts of the Grand Army of the Republic, and numbering one thousand men marched through some of the principal streets to the square, where Gilmore's band performed several patriotic airs The General appeared on the balcony of the hotel, and received tremendous cheers He said

"Comrades, I am glad to meet you here to-night, I am very glad to see you animated by the spirit which I have seen here exhibited, I see that you still retain the same spirit that you had when there was danger to the Union, I feel that there can be no danger now, so long as you continue in the same spirit that I see manifested this evening In traveling from the West to the East, I find that you are not alone, I find our comrades in every section of the country still animated by the recollection of their trials and sufferings to preserve our country I feel that the country is entirely safe, and always will be, I believe that the Government will take such action as will endorse the sentiments of the veterans of the Northern army I will now say good night to you"

In a Room with a Corpse —A traveler once arrived at a village inn after a hard day's travel, but the landlord said they were entirely full and that it was utterly impossible to accomodate him, that his wife had to sleep on the sofa and himself on the floor, but he would see what his wife could do for him. The good woman, on being applied to, said that there was a room he might occupy, provided he would agree to the condition, viz To enter the room in the dark, and leave it early in the morning, to prevent scandal, as the room was occupied by a lady This he agreed to About 2 o'clock in the morning an awful noise was heard in the house, and our friend the traveler, was heard tumbling heels over head down stairs The landlord, on arriving at the spot, inquired what the matter was The traveler ejaculated, as soon as he could speak

' Oh, Lord ! the woman's dead !"

"I know that," said the landlord

There was recently assembled in the house of William D Whilton, father, grandfather, great grandfather, and great great grandfather, the latter, Robert Whilton, aged 87 years, who can boast of great great great grand children.

THE ROYAL BALSAM!

Has now been before the public for a length of time and wherever used is highly recommended, never failing in a single instance to give permanent relief when timely used, and we have never known a single case of dissatisfaction, but on the contrary, all are delighted with it and speak in the highest terms of its magical effects. The astonishing efficacy of the ROYAL BALSAM, in curing the diseases for which it is recommended entitles it to the highest rank among the list of [illegible] and no family can be without it after once trying it.

Read the following testimonials from [illegible] of the most prominent citizens of Oregon

MIRACULOUS CURE.

Dr. Henley—Dear Sir I feel it but a duty to [illegible] you and the public what a miraculous effect your Royal Balsam had on my wife She had been [illegible] severe cough for several weeks which had [illegible] dangerous features, for which many physicians have been trying without any material benefit, and all they failed to give her any relief [illegible] relief was got I [illegible] the cough appeared to [illegible] at night, she could get no rest—when Mr [illegible] me to try your Royal [illegible] I concluded to try it, [illegible] Strange to say, by the time I gave her [illegible] of the Balsam she got relief and slept, a thing she had not done for three [illegible] By the time she had taken one [illegible] cough was checked. Its effect was truly [illegible] hence, I have no [illegible] in recommending the Royal Balsam to all who are afflicted and it [illegible] to me that [illegible] of such great merit and I might say [illegible] not [illegible] My candid opinion is, if [illegible] once, they never be without it in the house.

From Wm. Doty.

North Yamhill, July 15 1867

Dear Dr. Henley—It is with sincere gratitude I undertake to write to you, what your Royal Balsam has done for me For the last 12 years I have been afflicted with a severe cough and what also some of the physicians called the Bronchitis, and have spent a fortune to get cured, trying all the physicians and remedies I could get to no purpose, Through the influence of my neighbors (for you have a great name with them here,) I got a bottle of your Royal Balsam and finding that it relieved me considerable I sent for a half dozen more. And now after one month using it I am perfectly cured I gained ten pounds within a month and feel quite a different man I send you this for publication for the benefit of humanity, that through my experience others in affliction may be [illegible] as I have been Yours truly,

WILLIAM DOTY.

From Sophia M. Holman.

Dear Dr Henley—It is my duty to inform you and the public what a miraculous effect your Royal Balsam had on my children Two of them had a very bad cough and cold I got a bottle of the Royal Balsam and gave them some at bedtime and some in the morning and that was all that was needed to cure them I was astonished at not hearing them cough again but so it was I find if you give it in larger doses it will make the children throw up in an instant, and I think every mother ought to have a bottle of your Royal Balsam in the house in case a child should get the croup for which it is a sure remedy, as it acts like magic on children What I have seen and heard from my neighbors about the Royal Balsam I would sooner depend on it than on any prescription from any physician I have lost two children within the last year of the same disease had I had at the time some of the Royal Balsam I am confident my dear ones would be alive now I shall always recommend it to all my friends, for I consider it a blessing and Godsend to mankind.

Yours truly, SOPHIA M HOLMAN

From Drs. Bell & Parker.

We have sold a great deal of Medicine since we have been in bu[illegible], and now have fifteen different kinds of Expectorants for sale But Dr Henley's Royal Balsam takes the palm from all In fact, we sell six bottles of Royal Balsam to one of any other kind and really it seems of no use to keep any other During our experience we have never seen any medicine that gives the satisfaction the Royal Balsam does as is proven by the results daily coming in from the country of old Chronic cases when nothing else would remove the dreadful cough they had I find it is good for Bronchitis and Asthma We acknowledge it a pleasure to sell medicine that gives such universal satisfaction

BELL & PARKER,
Druggists Oregon City

From W. F. Barber.

Dr Henley—Dear Sir I had the Asthma for the last four years, so bad it came near choking me I tried all the patent medicines recommended for the cure of Asthma without doing me the least good till I was told to try some of your Royal Balsam, which on several afflicted with the same disease has performed wonders I am using it now for a week and strange to say I have not experienced anything since and I really believe that I am perfectly cured anyhow I shall never be without a bottle of the Royal Balsam in the house in case of a similar attack and I have no hesitation in recommending it to all afflicted with the same disease

I am Yours truly
W F BARBER.

From J. H. Morril.

Dear Dr Henley—I think it but justice to you that these few lines should be made known to the public for there is so much humbug going on in patent medicines and quack nostrums now a days that I had lost all faith in everything in the shape of medicine I was affected with what is called Bronchitis for the last thirty years I coughed and wheezed for an hour at a time I tried some of the best physicians in the Atlantic States and on this coast all to no purpose I could get no relief and I really thought there was no relief for me in the world I was induced to try a bottle of your Royal Balsam and it had a most remarkable effect on me and before I had used up four bottles the cough left me and I can talk as loud as anybody, my wife and neighbors don't know what to make of it My opinion is that if they knew the value of the Royal Balsam there is not a family in the country that would be without it, I think there is not a better medicine in existence for Bronchitis or cough than the Royal Balsam, and I conscientiously recommend to all so afflicted to give it a fair trial

I remain yours, truly,

Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life! In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene Let parents, guardians, friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life destroying maladies see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost [illegible] extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes; pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, feted breath, coughs, consumption night sweats monomania and frequent insanity If relief be not obtained should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of those fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

TO THE LADIES.

The various complicated and distressing diseases incident to females treated with eminent success. Such as Suppressions, Irregularities, Whites Falling of the Womb, Tumors all Urinary Diseases, Nervous Debility, Painful or Difficult Menstruation, Barrenness, etc, will be speedily cured, without poisonous drugs injurious or unpalatable medicines of any kind Have no delicacy in calling, no difference what your troubles may be. The afflicted are cordially invited to call and satisfy themselves

Persons calling at Dr Gibbon's office or sending for packages of medicines may rely upon his assurances of confidential secrecy with implicit faith, and expect no more than to be charged with a fair and mutually satisfactory remuneration for services rendered, considering the circumstances and difficulties of cases rather than a too prevalent and selfish practice of extortion among quacks and pretenders.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon, stating case, symptoms length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country with full and plain directions for use for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co
